Grow well Gardens*

In January 2012, I decided to have some twenty or more trees pruned to a more manageable height, some of which were over sixty foot tall. It was fair to say I was very unsure of what I required and unsure of how it would look when finished and how it would alter the character of the garden.

After receiving some advice at the beginning of the project it resulted in a very smooth and stress free job, along with a minimum of mess and a very professional job.

I would not hesitate to recommend Rob Vickers of Grow Well Gardens.
